Paying into the pension scheme

General information

When you start a new job and join your new employer's pension scheme, the applicable legal regulations stipulate that both the termination benefit from your previous pension scheme, as well as any other available credit balances with vested benefits schemes, must be transferred to the 2nd Pillar, i.e. to the new fund (Art.3(1) and Art.4(2^{bis}) of the Swiss Vested Benefits Act). Since 1 January 2006, such vested benefits assets must be offset against voluntary purchases, even if they are not subject to the transfer obligation, i.e. irrespective of the change of job.

Withdrawals of old-age benefits and pension assets from restricted pension provision (Pillar 3a) schemes must be taken into account within a particular scope (Art. 60a of the Occupational Pension Ordinance (OPO 2)).

Since 1 January 2006, restrictions have been in place on people who move to Switzerland/have moved to Switzerland from abroad paying into such schemes. In concrete terms, this means that where people who move to Switzerland from abroad and have never joined a pension scheme in Switzerland before are concerned, the annual purchase amount may not exceed 20% of their insured income in the first five years after joining a Swiss pension scheme (Art. 60b OPO 2).

Were any advance withdrawals made in line with legislation encouraging home ownership? As long as an advance withdrawal made in line with legislation encouraging home ownership has not been fully repaid, it is not possible to voluntarily pay into the scheme.

Further information and explanations are available on the "Purchasing contribution years" information sheet. Please read this information sheet carefully.

Paying into the pension scheme and lump sum withdrawal

In accordance with Art. 61 of PKG Pension Fund's pension regulations, current policyholders have the opportunity to pay for missing contribution years at a later date.

Pursuant to Art. 79b of the Occupational Pensions Act, the following restriction must be given due consideration, among others:

If purchases were made, the resulting benefits may not be withdrawn from the pension account as a lump sum within the next three years. This legal regulation is undisputed in relation to the part of the old-age pension bought into in the last three years, which may not be paid out as a lump sum but only in the form of a pension.

In a landmark decision, the Swiss Federal Supreme Court ruled that this restriction also applies to capital components, which already existed before buying into a scheme, as far as taxation law is concerned: anyone who buys into the pension fund and would like a lump sum payment for the remaining part within three years (retirement, cash payment, advance withdrawal for home ownership, etc.) must subsequently have the tax deductions of the last three years offset again.

In the interests of personal responsibility, the PKG Pension Fund will in future meet requests for payments of some of the capital, which are made within the 3-year deadline, and point out the consequences relating to taxation.

We recommend that you enquire beforehand at the competent tax authority whether or not a purchase is recognised as being deductible. It's possible that recognition will only be given under certain conditions.
